Panthers fight back to roll Tigers

Jimmy Aganas clears the back half for the Tigers in their home game against the Caloundra Panthers yesterday.

The Tigers went down in a tight finish for the second week in a row having had their chances, this time to the Caloundra Panthers at the Den yesterday.

The Tigers started off the game in terrific form to kick out to a five goal lead at the first break but lost their way in the middle of the game while the Panthers clawed their way back into the game.

Seventeen year old Ryan Doolan was another debutant for the Tigers after starring in the Reserves in recent weeks and he wasted no time getting into the action to kick the first goal of the game in the opening minute. The Tigers piled on the pressure to leave the Panthers goalless at quarter time with Josh Westerberg kicking two goals after taking strong marks while the Captain Zac Mclean was leading his troops strongly from the front.

The second term saw the Panthers get their mojo on to kick five of their own goals with the Tigers only able to kick two to retain a six point margin. If the Panthers had been more accurate it could have been a different half time score.

The Tigers backline defended grimly with Jimmy Aganas and Dean Hartley doing their best to stem the tide but the dangerous Caloundra midfield had their tails up led by a rampant Luca Mason who seemed to be everywhere. The identical Panther Kimberley twins Tim and Brad also gave the Tigers hell with what appeared to create small blond haired Panthers at every turn.

The third term was rather dismal for the Tigers as they had no answer for the Panthers run and penetrating kicking but Zac Quin, Henry Leong and Seb Windsor were doing their best to spark a revival or at least hold back the tide. The Panthers attack was relentless in the third term but they couldn't hit the knockout blow with inaccurate kicking their downfall. It was still a drawn game until the Panthers kicked two goals in the dying minutes of the quarter to take a clear lead heading into the final term with their run looking unstoppable. The Tigers hadn't troubled the scorer for the term.

Coach Duffy gave his squad a big rev at the final break in the hope of sparking a revival.

The Tigers finally woke from their slumber to get their game back on track kicking two quick goals to even things up again but the Panthers weren't going to lie down as the game seesawed to an exciting finish.

The Tigers had their chances to steal the game back again but they weren't able to make the most of their dominant possession with three set shots to some of their younger brigade not able to deliver the required blow to seal the game.

Seb Windsor looks to evade his Caloundra opponent at the Den yesterday.

In the end the Tigers went down by five points to a very worthy winner in the Panthers in yet another close game in the competition. No team in the competition has won all of their four games with each week providing a great contest.

The Tigers play Wynnum at home next week and will be desperate to get back on the winners list.

Panthers edge out Ressies

The Reserves have not been troubled by the Caloundra Panthers at any time since they came into the same competition in 2014. The Panthers have always struggled with their depth but that problem is no more as they have recruited well in 2022 and have talent to burn.

The Tigers have been looking for more competition across the board in recent seasons and it is now abundantly clear that the game is on with every week mounting a challenge for every team.

The Tigers and Panthers were no more than a goal apart for the entire day as the lead changed consistently in an evenly balance contest. The Tigers had many opportunities to put the game onto their terms but too many unforced errors provided the Panthers with opportunities to fight back.

In the end it was skill errors under pressure creating turnovers that gave the Panthers the chance to seal the game. The Panthers ended the third term with a goal advantage and held that lead through the last term to win the game.

The Tigers Tim Lyons was strong across half back with some textbook defence and high marking while Tom Barr was solid again this week. Byron Parish was busy all day while Pat Glass always looked dangerous across the half forward line.

The Tigers will look forward to reversing this result next week against the Wynnum Vikings.

Pat Glass looks to set up an attacking raid for the Tigers Reserves yesterday at the Den against the Caloundra Panthers.

Thirds show fight against Redbacks

The Thirds travelled to Park Ridge on Friday night to play the always troublesome Jimboomba Redbacks whose lights were out of action following the floods.

The Tigers put up a much improved effort from the previous week to hit the scoreboard on a more regular basis. The welcome return of the experienced Sam Cox gave them an avenue to goal which was lacking last week. Cox kicked four and was clearly the Tigers best.

While the Redbacks proved to be easy winners in the end, the Tigers were far from disgraced as they battled hard all night to show signs of what might be possible as the year progresses.

The Thirds have a big list of players and will continue to look to give everyone their chance to show their wares.

The Tigers take on Sherwood at home next week in another tough game.

Scores: Jimboomba 16.10.106 d Mayne 7.7.49
Goals: S Cox 4, L Cardiff, M Olley, C Azzopardi 1.
Best: S Cox, L Mulcahy, J Edwards, C Austin, B McArdle, D Merryfull.

Tiger Women bear their claws to maul Panthers

The female Tigers were the shining light for the club this weekend as they punished the newly formed Caloundra Panthers in the last game of the day yesterday.

In their second game for the season they revelled in their opportunities to dominate the game. The Tigers have recruited well with Maddison Cooley and Lexie Baker giving the team some much needed height. While Cooley and Baker are new to the game their extensive Netball experience and sporting ability is going to be a big positive for the team.

Emily Bowden had a night out kicking four goals while down back Grace Mahoney was impassable.

The Tigers kicked the game home with a four goal quarter to win an exciting game in front of a cheering home crowd.

Scores: Mayne 7.7.49 d Caloundra 1.3.9
Goals: E Bowden 4, D Cott, M Dick, T Selman 1.
Best: M Cooley, D Cott, M Dick, A Baker, E Bowden, G Maloney.

Winners are grinners for the Women's team yesterday at the Den.

Volunteer Army

The Tiger Club Captain Zac McLean put in a huge day yesterday starting with Everton Wolves Football Director duties managing a carnival round robin programme, followed by leading the Tigers against the Caloundra Panthers and then helping with the running of the Trivia Night. Well done to Daniel Schmidt organising a very successful Trivia Night function with a very big turnout and some vital funds raised for the club.

As usual it was all hands on for the home game with the bar and canteen doing a great trade. A big thanks to everyone that took on a volunteer job across the three games.

Deepest Sympathy

The Mayne Tigers wishes to send deepest best wishes and condolences to Louise and Dean Hartley and their family for the loss of mother, mother in law and grandmother Christine Ryan who passed away recently after a long battle with cancer.

The Tigers wore black armbands yesterday in recognition.
